II. TRAINING

- A. Investigation of Police Conduct (Lynn McCarthy/Cordelia Coppleson – Assistant State’s Attorneys, Cook County State’s Attorney Office).

ASA McCarthy presented an overview of the process of the Cook County State’s Attorney Office Law Enforcement Review Unit’s investigations of allegations against police officers and officer-involved shootings, including discussion of the Unit’s makeup, types of allegations investigated, what evidence is reviewed, interviews conducted, including voluntary protected interviews, and approval and declining charges.

- B. Illinois Police Policies, Procedures, and Disciplinary Rules (Brad Cole – Chief Executive Officer, Illinois Municipal League)

CEO Cole highlighted the structure, purpose, and resources of the Illinois Municipal League (IML), including insuring a majority of the municipalities and the respective police departments. He discussed how the movement of problem officers from one agency to another is a problem, statutory requirements of board of fire and police commissioners, the laws that affect law enforcement policies, discipline procedures, defense and payment of liability claims, and revision of current guidelines relating to police discipline.

- C. Policing Individuals in Crisis (John Williams, LCPC, CIT Coordinator for Northern Illinois)

Mr. Williams gave an overview of the week-long Crisis Intervention Team (CIT) training course, including training related to persons with mental health disorders, older adults, intellectual disabilities like autism spectrum disorder, Childhood adolescent disorders, veterans, and cooccurring disorders like substance abuse; legal issues relating to laws relating to mental health issues, role playing (at different levels of difficulty) with professional actors; review of some of the role playing videos to provide feedback to the officers; and techniques to apply to these individuals.

- D. Community Outreach/Policing (Glen Brooks – Director of Community Policing, Chicago Police Department)

Director Brooks explained the goal of community policing and provided some examples of how community policing can help. He discussed the importance of police being from the areas in which they serve, building trust, intentionally building relationships, and engaging people on 4 different levels (information, discussion, community building, and cooperation).
